

Former Band Leader Here.
Prof. F. L. Bliss and his band of 32 men passed thru this city Wednesday evening on their way to Milwaukee to play a two days engagement at the state fair. Prof. Bliss had intended to get the boys off the train at this point for the purpose of giving our people a sample of their music, but owing to the fact that the boys in the car had been made up, and their instruments stowed away, it was impossible to do so. A number who had gone up to the depot to hear the band were a trifle disappointed but understood the situation.

Raymond Sutor, who is conducting a confectionery store in the Lyon block has had extra shelving installed the past week and will carry a line of staple groceries.

Rickman-Tewes.
Miss Maibel Rickman of this city and Mr. Herman Tewes of Merrill were married in this city on Wednesday last at the east side Lutheran church, Rev. R. J. Pauls performing the ceremony. They were accompanied by Miss Nettie Burneiser, Ruth Mindak as bridesmaids and Messrs. Frank Rickman and Harry Tewes as groomsmen. After the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rickman, and the young couple left the same day on their wedding tour, after which they will make their home in Merrill.

The bride is one of our popular young ladies, while the groom holds a responsible position in one of the banks at Merrill. The Tribune united with their friends in extending congratulations.

JOHNSON & HILL STYLE SHOW A GREAT SUCCESS

The style show given by the Johnson & Hill Company at Daly's Theatre last Thursday evening was a great success. In every respect the show was a success. It was a most interesting and profitable one. The show was given by the Johnson & Hill Company at Daly's Theatre last Thursday evening. It was a most interesting and profitable one. The show was given by the Johnson & Hill Company at Daly's Theatre last Thursday evening. It was a most interesting and profitable one.

Why is Kelly So Successful?—Every once in a while, the above question is asked by the patrons all over the northwest territory, where the Johnson & Hill Company have been exhibiting their wares for more than a year, and they are going a little out of the way in putting forth one of the many reasons why this attraction smashes records for business everywhere they play. Take the personal of the company for instance; year after year you will find many of the same faces in the line up, naturally one asks, "How does Kelly keep the same people season in and season out?" Why? Because he treats his employees as if they were human, pays them real salaries, mixes with them, joins in with them in all their various forms of amusement and always maintains an air of cheerfulness around his show that creates a feeling of good fellowship among each member of his troupe, and the result is that it would be difficult indeed to find a more congenial company working in such a harmonious manner anywhere in the theatrical world.

Mr. Kelly will open a week's engagement at Daly's Theatre next Monday evening, September 27th, with Nat Goodwin's piece, "The Little Simp," and the usual ladies free proposition is again open to all local theatre goers, as in the past.

Are Getting After the Roads.

The town authorities of the Town of Grand Rapids, Wis., working in harmony with the citizens committee of the city of Grand Rapids, have made a good start for the improvement of what is known as the Plover road.

For a distance of a mile and a half, all trees, stumps, and brush have been removed, three rods wide, and in the near future they hope to have the water holes filled and the road much improved.

The town authorities of the towns of Plover and Grand Rapids, through whose territory said road passes, have promised to do likewise.

Ed Wessenberg has gone to Beloit, Wis., to attend college.

Harry Kampfert, Superintendent of the Grand Rapids Street Ry. Co., saw a fine buck deer while hunting with some companions on Henlock creek on Sunday. Harry says it was the first deer he ever saw in the woods and that it was quite a sight for him, cylinder cars.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. E. P. GLEASON

Mrs. Edward P. Gleason died very suddenly at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Goggins, on Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Gleason had been confined to her bed ever since the birth of her baby about four weeks ago, at which time the family was bereaved by the death of the little one, but Mrs. Gleason had been gradually gaining in strength until she had reached a point where it was considered that she was out of danger. For a few days past she had been able to see her friends, and up to within a moment before her death she was able to sit up and converse with those about her. The summons came about 7 o'clock last evening, and her friends had no warning of what was about to happen, and what was thought to be a fainting spell ended in death.

Mrs. Gleason, whose maiden name was Grace Goggins, was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Goggins of this city. She was born and reared in Grand Rapids, and was a most charming young lady and was universally liked by all who knew her. A year ago last August she was married to Edward Gleason of Port Edwards, and it is hard to realize that she has been gathered to her fathers at such an untimely age, with such bright prospects before her.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, and services at the Methodist church will occur at 3:00 o'clock, Rev. B. C. Logan to conduct the services.

Tham-Wittig.

Mrs. Inez Tham and Mr. Edwin Wittig, both of this city, were married on Wednesday last, Rev. R. J. Pauls of the Congregational church performing the ceremony. They were accompanied by Miss Esther Wittig as bridesmaid and Mr. Harold Tham as groomsmen.

The young couple left the same day on their wedding trip and upon their return will go to housekeeping on the east side.

Both of the young people are well and favorably known in this city, the bride being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Tham and a most estimable young lady, while the groom holds a responsible position in the Wood County National Bank.

The Tribune unites with their many friends in extending congratulations.

WEATHER FORECAST

Fair weather and moderate temperature the first half of the week although frosts are probable Wednesday in the upper Mississippi Valley. The weather will become warmer and unsettled by the middle of the week with scattered showers; the latter part of the week will be generally fair.

YOUNG NAVAL OFFICER TO COMMAND STEAMER DOLPHIN

The following complimentary notice concerning Lieutenant Commander William D. Leahy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Leahy and a brother to Mrs. Cleve Akoy of this city, was published in the Washington Evening Star of September 20th.

Lieut. Commander William D. Leahy, detail officer of the bureau of navigation, was today ordered to command the gunboat Dolphin, assigned to Washington for personal use of the Secretary of the Navy. The successful Commander Gatewood S. Lincoln, detailed to the Navy as a naval instructor in electricity, was relieved of his command of the Dolphin, and entered the navy in May, 1893, teaching his present grade in September, 1909. He has had nearly thirty years' experience service as member of the staff of the commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet. Since August, 1913, he has been stationed in this city, first on special duty at the Naval Department and later as detail officer in the bureau of navigation. He is regarded as one of the brightest and most progressive officers in the navy, and his selection by Secretary Daniels for the command of the Dolphin is accepted as a special compliment to his services and ability.

WILL MAKE COARSE WRAPPING PAPERS

The Consolidated Water Power & Paper Company are installing in their mill in this city a new paper machine for the manufacture of coarse wrapping paper, and it is expected that the bulk of the material entering into this paper will be the bark and kindred refuse that has heretofore gone to waste.

While print paper is not considered a high grade paper, as paper goes these days, it has to be fairly even in texture and white. This precludes the possibility of allowing any bark or refuse to enter into its manufacture, and as a consequence there is a considerable quantity of the material that comes to the mill but subsequently goes into the waste pile and is thrown away.

The installation of this machine will enable the company to manufacture all of this waste into salable paper, not as a high grade paper, but as a coarse wrapping paper, a constant demand for various purposes.

A reporter for the Tribune visited the mill on Tuesday and he was shown samples of this paper made from the bark and a certain percentage of sulphite, this latter ingredient varying from 35 per cent down to practically nothing. The sulphite adds strength to the paper, and incidentally adds to the price also. The paper made from the pure bark is quite coarse and brittle and naturally could be used only for the coarsest grades of work, while that with a greater amount of sulphite is tougher and available for more purposes.

The machine which is being erected at the Consolidated plant is being built by the local millwrights, and is being placed in the room formerly occupied by the pulp rolls. The latter machines having been moved into a new part just back of the grinders. The machine is about 80 inches wide, and while not as large as the big machines now in the mill, will turn out a considerable quantity of the coarse paper each twenty-four hours.

During a talk with Mr. Berkeley on Tuesday that gentleman stated that the company would probably buy up waste paper in bales after this machine was started up, and as a consequence it will probably be possible for merchants and others who have bales installed to dispose of their waste paper at a better price than heretofore, as the freight on this class of commodity has been such as to eat up almost the entire price of the stock.

Bridge Work Started.

Nekoosa Times.—Local work for the new bridge started Monday when Manager A. Heinen of the Wisconsin Iron Works and crew arrived to build a scow for the pontoon bridge. This work will take about two weeks and then divers will make surveys of the river bottom, the nature of the piers and construction of same depends upon this survey. The scows are being built on the ferry site and the place has a business like appearance. Five of these scows are to be made, each one 30 feet long and 10 feet wide. Mr. Heinen stated that the work would be pushed with the greatest vigor, with the result above stated. The work is not a dangerous one.

Shot While Hunting.—Leon Fritz, the twelve year old son of Sam Fritz of the town of Saratoga, was shot in the leg on Sunday while out hunting. He attempted to pull the gun the wrong way, with the result above stated. The wound is not a dangerous one.

City Attorney C. E. Briere and Warren Fisher have purchased touring cars the past week. Mr. Briere getting a model 55, a seven passenger and Mr. Fisher a model 45 a five passenger, both being six.

H. G. Zimmerman left on Saturday evening for Chicago, and from there he will go to Cleveland, Ohio, where he expects to take a position as general sales agent for an automobile concern. Mrs. Zimmerman left for Chicago the same morning and expects to visit her people in that city for a time before going east.

An accordion is generally considered to be more or less of a joke as a musical instrument, but Manager Stark of the Ideal Theatre had a specialist at his house Monday and Tuesday evenings that could make one of these much derided instruments out right right out of his hand. He was certainly an artist in his line and the audience appreciated his efforts to please them.

George B. McMillan expects to leave Friday for Washington, D. C., where he will attend the National G. A. R. encampment. Fifty years ago Mr. McMillan marched down Pennsylvania Avenue on the day that the northern army was routed out of service, and he is still enjoying pretty good health and expects to march down the same street again next week with some of the boys that were the blue. He will be accompanied by an old friend, General Berlin who went thru the war with him.

GRAND RAPIDS IS MADE TRADE CENTER

The Charles W. Hume stores of New York City have decided to make the city of Grand Rapids their distribution point for the state of Wisconsin. In other words all merchandise ordered by mail from that company to this city by express, and from here it is to be mailed out by parcel post to its destination.

The first consignment of merchandise was received on Tuesday morning, several dry goods, and this was delivered to the local post office, and from here sent to its destination. The company also maintains a distributing agent here for their catalogues, and is looking after this part of the work, and when the company receives a request for one of their catalogues, the local agent is notified of the fact and he sends out the book. A stock of 5,000 of them is being kept here for this purpose.

During an interview with Postmaster Nash recently, that gentleman stated that if the company continued to send out the mail from this point in the manner in which they have started, it would mean that Grand Rapids would soon be a first class office.

While our people are not generally in favor of encouraging the city mail order house, still as long as they order and thrive, it is welcome news that a part of their money is being left here.

NOW IS THE TIME TO VISIT CALIFORNIA

A trip to California some day no doubt you have promised yourself and family. Right now is your opportunity to make good that promise. The harvest is over, the yields have been large and the markets good—therefore, you have both the means and leisure to make the trip. Never again will you be able to see as much of the great West for so small a cost. Weather conditions are ideal, and the people are in the full swing and at the height of their glory. They seem to have been planned for the American farmer for both give far more attention to features that touch on his welfare than any previous years.

Low fare excursions, including both fares, daily to November 30th, via the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway.

You have the choice of two superb first-class trains, THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC LIMITED and THE SAN FRANCISCO LIMITED—each going through and direct, in fast time, to California.

No farther should neglect to see the Pacific Northwest on the return. Stop off at any point, examine the country, talk to the settlers and learn first-hand of the wonderful yields produced on land that cost from one-half to one-third less than middle west or eastern land.

For literature, rates, and full particulars, see local agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, or address Geo. B. Hayes, General Passenger Agent, Chicago.

Injured With Dynamite Blast.

Charles Boetcher, a youth of 13 years of age, had two of his fingers and the thumb of his left hand torn off on Sunday by the explosion of a dynamite cap, which he picked up in the Margison quarry west of the city. It seems that the boy and two companions were looking over things in the quarry when the cap was found, when Boetcher took the thing and played it with a pin.

The boy was brought to this city where Dr. Merrill dressed his wounds, amputating the two fingers and thumb at the first joint.

Novak-Aitwood.

Mrs. Olga Novak and Mr. Almond C. Aitwood were married in this city last Wednesday afternoon at the Congregational parsonage, Rev. R. J. Locke performing the ceremony. The contracting parties were present.

The newlyweds left the same day on a short wedding trip, and will make their home in this city, where the groom is employed on the Soo railroad. The Tribune extends congratulations.

Marshfield Editor Sued.—E. S. Bailey, editor of the Marshfield News, is defendant in a $15,000 damage suit, and it is expected that the case will be heard at the October term of Circuit court in T. Hayes, an engineer on the North Western road. Hayes claims that Bailey ran over him with his automobile, inflicting injuries of a permanent character. Goggins & Brazeau of this city are attorneys for Mr. Bailey.

An Indoor Picnic.

The Royal Neighbors of America held an indoor picnic at their lodge rooms last Thursday afternoon. It had been the intention to hold the event out of doors, but owing to the inclemency of the weather, the plans were changed. A picnic dinner was served and everything passed off in a very pleasant manner.

Novelty Store Sold.—Miss Ella Wittenberg has purchased the stock in the Novelty Store formerly owned by H. G. Zimmerman, and assumed control of the place last week. Miss Wittenberg will conduct the store along the same lines as heretofore and will handle a general stock such as is usually carried in these places.

W. R. C. at Biron.

Mrs. Carl Nogaleski has issued invitations to the wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Edith to Alton Stevenson, Wednesday morning, October 8th at nine o'clock at St. Lawrence Catholic church.

Surprised By His Friends.

On Sunday, September 19th, Fred Hirsch was rendered a surprise by a number of his friends at his home on Elm street. The house was tastefully decorated with lavender and white asters. Several hours were spent in cards and music after which a fine supper was served. The prize was won by Mrs. Archie Chouard. Mr. Hirsch was presented with a very nice present.

Sunday Train Discontinued.

RUSSELL ALEXANDER HAS ARM CRUSHED IN SHREDDER

Russell Alexander, who is employed as foreman in the bleacher plant of the Nebraska Edwards company, met with a serious accident on Monday night which resulted in the loss of his left arm below the elbow.

He was at work about one of the machines known as the shredder, when the machine became clogged. The shredder is a machine which cuts machinery and entirely lost its motion. Mr. Alexander reached in to remove the obstruction, when his hand was caught and drawn into the machine, mauling the hand and forearm in such a manner that it was necessary to amputate it.

Mr. Alexander was brought to this city and placed in the hospital, where Mrs. Wagner, Looze and Merrill performed the operation.

The accident occurred only a few minutes before six o'clock, and the news cast a shadow of gloom over this city, where Mr. Alexander is well known and has a host of friends.

DON'T FORGET THE BIG DAY SEPT. 28TH

All the farmers in the vicinity of Grand Rapids are invited to lay aside their work on Tuesday, September 28th and come to town. The merchants of this city are going to do their best to give you a day of entertainment and it is not going to cost you a cent.

Owing to the fact that it was impossible to hold with us, we are now how many people will be in the city on that day, no attempt will be made to feed the visitors, and farmers are asked to put a basket of lunch in their wagons for their family use, and the officers of Grand Rapids will furnish hot coffee and other drinks to wash the mud down with, and in case the weather is chilly or bad, arrangements will be made so that the visitors can eat under cover.

Farmers who come to town are invited to go to the amusement hall, where there will be several parties on hand to check their baskets and take proper care of the parcels until they are called for at eating time. It is considered that this will be the best of the day, as the weather will be in the hands of the care of them until the time comes when they will want to go home.

The Grand Rapids Band has been engaged to furnish music during the day, and in the evening there will be a dance at the Amusement Hall, music to be furnished by an 8 piece orchestra under the leadership of Dan Ellis. All of those who come to the city are invited to stay over and make in the dance the evening, as there will be no charge of any kind.

During the afternoon there will be shows at the three theatres of the city, all to be free, and they will be in operation from 1:30 to 5:30, continuing all day.

Now there is no string tied to this proposition; it is simply a holiday to which the farmers are invited, and an effort will be made to treat them in a manner that will not only be acceptable to all, but will also give them a chance to get better acquainted with the city people.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION FRIDAY.

"Here lies the corp Of Joseph Thorpe."

But this the miser refused as too long. He cut it down till it read—

Don't Poison Baby.

Forty years ago almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKE. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any of these to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, it is the signature of Chas. H. Pictorius.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HOSKINS, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.
2. SUGARVILLE, KY.—"I suffered from a severe female trouble. My right side hurt and I was so weak I could not do anything. I must be operated on. When my husband learned this he got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking it a few days I got better and continued to improve until I am now well."—Mrs. MOLLIE SMITH, R.R. 1, Shelbyville, Ky.
3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ANN WITTE, 203 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.
4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation. I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I felt other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LUTHER A. GUNSWORTH, 232 East William Street, Decatur, Ill.
5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GURFET, 1598 Constant St., Cleveland, O.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

KNOW WHERE IT BELONGED

Information Not Just What Botanist Was Looking For, but the Boy Meant Well.

The famous botanist was passing slowly along the country road, his eyes, as usual, roaming from side to side for new plants to study.

Suddenly an eager look spread across his features, and he leaned over the low fence enclosing a cottage garden. He had found a plant he did not know.

What could it be? If only he had a specimen of it to study!

At that moment a shock-headed lad strode along the road and stopped to gaze open-mouthed at him.

"I say!" called the botanist, "that pale plant in the corner? Do you know it?"

"Uh-huh!" said the country boy briefly.

"What's its name? Do you know what family it belongs to?"

The lad jerked a grumpy thumb over his shoulder toward the little cottage as he spoke more briefly still.

"Higgles!" — Utesa Herald-Dispatch.

He Spoke to Her.

A Virginia farmer was driving a retractor cow down the road one morning. The cow and the driver were in a hurry. The man wanted the cow to go straight ahead, but the cow picked out the crossroad. A colored man was coming along the crossroad. "Halt her off! Halt her off!" yelled the driver. The colored man jumped about the road and waved his arms. The cow proved to be easily on her way. "Halt her off! Halt her off!" yelled the driver. "Is trying her!" replied the colored man. "Speak to her! Speak to her and she'll stop!" "Good maw'nin', cow—good maw'nin'!" said the other politely.

The man who does his fighting over the long-distance telephone evidently believes the direction is the better part of valor.

Genius may be a little backward about coming forward, but talent always shows up on pay day.

When a woman has a headache it is natural; but when a man has a headache it is usually acquired.

Vienna Sausage and Sliced Dried Beef

Both contain less heat producing properties than heavy meats.

Try them for summer luncheons and picnic tidbits.

The Catholic Ladies Aid society have the ideal theatre this evening for a benefit.

Mike Beattie White 1 ft this morning for Eau Claire where she will visit several weeks at the Fred Nelson home.

Chas. Keip and family returned last week from an auto trip to Columbus where he visited with his parents for several days. They also visited in Madison and other points in the southern part of the state.

Mrs. A. Borchert entertained a number of her friends at 500 at her home on Fourth Ave. on Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served and a most pleasant evening was spent by those in attendance. Mrs. Chas. Larumie was awarded first honors and Mrs. N. S. Larumie second honors.

Vesper Stat. Center.—To show that this section did not suffer as much damage as the rest of the county from the heavy rain, the station at Nekosha has been closed because all cucumber vines were killed, while at Vesper the pickle station is still running and to everybody's surprise. The pickles of the past week were far greater than the previous week. Another illustration is in the corn crop. J. P. Hill is a large field of corn that was hardly touched by the frost. Other corn that was frosty is growing just along and is making quite a showing.

Wood County in Third Place. At the Milwaukee state fair last week Wood county got third place in the exhibit. Marathon county being first and Sauk county second. The fair was not as good as some people may have expected. It was doing pretty well, just the same. It was not possible for all of them to be in first place, and those who were not, the exhibitors say that the first prize went to the arrangement of the exhibit than on the quality of the things exhibited.

HOMESSEEKERS.—Locate where you can plant potatoes in February and dig them in May; raise a corn or bean crop on the same land before October, and then sow oats for pasture from November until the time to plant potatoes again. Locate with people that show you how to get results and make your money. We are farmers, live stock producers, fruit and nut growers, canners and shippers on a large scale. Our business managed by Michigan men who depend on hard work and common sense. Write for our free circular A, based on five years' experience. K. C. Lander Company, Lander's, Mich. 10-11-12.

Yester's Star Center. To show that this section did not suffer as much damage as other sections, we can cite that the pickle station at Nekoma has been closed because all cucumber vines were killed, while at Yester's the station is still running. The report of the past week was far greater than the previous week. Another illustration is in the corn crop. J. F. Hill has a large field of corn that was hardly touched by the frost. Other corn that was frost-killed is growing right along and is making quite a showing.

Wood County in Third Place. At the Milwaukee state fair last week Wood county took third place in her exhibit. Marathon county took first and Stark county second.

While this was not as good as some people may have expected, it was doing pretty well, and the same. It was not possible for all of them to be in first place, and those who saw the exhibit say that the first prize went to the arrangement of the exhibit than on the quality of the things exhibited.

Watch the Disease Moon.

A "contagious disease almanac" which shows the waxing and waning of certain diseases instead of the corresponding changes in the moon has been prepared by the Bureau for the purpose of forecasting possible epidemics and to provide a seasonable warning and "danger signals" for Wisconsin people. It covers the most important preventable diseases in Wisconsin and shows by months when they are most prevalent and when least to be feared. The information should be of practical value to parents, teachers and health officers. It has been changed to keep for instance, that January brings the largest number of deaths from diphtheria and croup of any month in the year, that it is one of the three for the maximum number of cases of whooping cough, and is the beginning of the scarlet fever danger season. Typhoid disease, of all the leading infectious diseases that cause death in Wisconsin, is on the wane in this month, which marks the developing of many cases of measles and the recognition of many cases of tuberculosis.

Much interest and value is to be gained by consulting this almanac which is based on accurate scientific knowledge. According to its tabulation, the closing months of the year call for unusual vigilance in guarding against disease. The real danger from typhoid fever begins in September with a great increase in the number of cases and in mortality, and in November the climax in both cases and deaths is reached. December shows a decrease in both cases and deaths, although the calendar proves this to be practically an all year problem. The year September shows an increase in measles and scarlet fever, but there is a marked decrease in both diseases in October and November. There are fewer deaths but more cases of measles in October, while in the following month the real danger time begins with a great increase in both the number of cases and mortality. Measles continues its increase in the number of cases and deaths in December, but this month marks a decrease in the number of cases of scarlet fever. The disease is more severe, however, and the mortality higher.

Whooping cough, which has its greatest death record in January, February, March and April, and its lowest in June and August, begins to recede in September, shows a decrease in mortality but an increase in the number of cases in October and a decrease in both cases and the number of deaths in November. There are fewer cases but a slightly higher percentage of deaths in December. October ranks next to January for deaths from diphtheria and croup. December is third and November fourth in mortality from these diseases. Tuberculosis, which invariably shows the largest number of reported cases and deaths during the quarter year which includes April, May and June, begins its annual increase in October. Mortality from this disease is high in both November and December. November, which is one of the chief months for high report of cases and deaths.

These diseases might all be wiped out of existence by proper sanitation, better living, and strict quarantine. The almanac points out the danger periods. It remains for an enlightened people to do away with them.

Device Makes Dumb People Talk.

The ancient proverb, "Necessity is the mother of invention," was never better exemplified than in the remarkable case of Tadeo Pereda, once a maddler in Almaden, near Carthage, Spain. Pereda awoke one morning slightly hoarse, and his affliction became steadily worse until finally his breathing became seriously affected, and his wife accompanied him to Madrid to consult a specialist. Dr. Tapa made a lengthy examination of the patient and communicated his impressions to the wife much after this fashion: "Your husband has a cancer in the larynx. With an operation he will surely die. If he is operated upon we can save his life, but he will remain dumb, because it will be necessary to remove the vocal chords."

Surgical intervention was decided upon, and Dr. Tapa proceeded to remove the larynx, employing Perler's method. Two operations were performed, one in October, 1910 and the other in November.

The despair of the poor fellow upon recognizing that he had been deprived of speech knew no bounds, and he began to display symptoms of dementia. Dr. Tapa, who provided him with an apparatus invented by Gluck, the well-known German laryngologist, with which it would be possible to articulate. The patient tried this for a long time and finally managed to speak a little, but always at the expense of great fatigue.

Pereda was not to be beaten, however, and he began to turn the matter over in his mind, and eventually evolved a rude apparatus which he afterward managed to perfect. In this condition both patient and apparatus were presented to the Royal Academy of Medicine in Dr. Tapa, and to the surprise of all present the inventor patient sang some couplets from a well known Spanish opera.

Since then the apparatus has been further improved, and later the patient read a long paper before a distinguished assembly of his illness and subsequent cure. The fundamental idea of the invention consists in introducing sound into the mouth by means of an india rubber tube which is in communication with the orifice in the neck thru which breathing is effected. Once within the mouth the sound becomes modulated by the action of the tongue, teeth and lips, thus forming intelligible expressions in the usual way.

Most Important Minerals.

The greatest volume of mineral production of the United States, its tremendous increase during the last few years and the wide distribution of the important minerals were indicated in a recent address by George C. Smith, director of United States geological survey. The twelve most important products in the United States, in the order of value of annual output, were stated by Mr. Smith to be Coal, Iron, Clay products, copper, petroleum, gold, stone, natural gas, cement, lead, silver and zinc.

Preserved Timber.

An English company is engaged in preserving wood somewhat as the housewife preserves fruit—in a sweetening solution. Saccharin is used. The object is to render the timber immune to the attacks of damp, insects and fungi. The timber is immersed in the solution and soaked at an elevated temperature. The process is intended especially for railroad ties.

Production of Glass Sand.

Pennsylvania produces 20 per cent of the sand used in glass making in the United States—about 400,000 tons. The average value of glass sand in Pennsylvania, according to the United States Geological survey, is $1.40 a ton.

More Philipp Economy.

The Balkiest Northwesterner in one of the strongest Republican papers in this part of the state, perhaps in the state. Of late years the paper has not been a "regular" but rather a "progressive" supporting Governor Whitte. Col. Hicks keeps a close tab on politics and does not seem to be in love with Gov. Philipp. In a recent editorial the Northwest man says: "Governor Philipp has just given another illustration of his desire to economize in state expenses. It now appears that when the legislature, following the governor's program, passed a measure to provide a $500 position for the governor's good political friend, Speaker Whitte, in some mysterious way it happened to make the appropriation for the payment of his salary. Perhaps the legislature had their own ideas of economy and this was a true change to save the state $500 annually for the state. With the governor's also strong for economy, however, he can't see why his friend Whitte should be deprived of that $500 salary. So the announcement is now made that Whitte will 'stick' to his budget expert, assuming the arduous duties of checking up the expenditures of the various state boards, departments and institutions, and the governor will continue to pay him down the so-called contingent fund allotted to the state executive for use, but supposedly a necessary expense."

Wornout Machinery.

In the older steel plants of small and medium size and even in plants that have grown up to a modest beginning to become huge concerns employing thousands of men we find that an auxiliary power machinery has been given little consideration in modernizing the industry in general, but with auxiliary machinery it is very different. In many cases air compressors and pumps, even such important machinery as blowing engines, have been kept in service long after their days of usefulness were over, when they were using enough steam to pay for a new machine in a very short time and to make the purchase of up to date machinery an extended investment. The reasons for this method of procedure were that the new auxiliary power machinery could not show an increase output of steel, nor would they show in the cost of production of steel.

In many localities fuel was cheap. In some cases the steel companies owned their mines and coal could be had for the digging. In a few instances hydroelectricity was furnished at the fuel required. In these cases there was some excuse for keeping inefficient machinery in use. More recently, however, conditions have taken a decided change. The price of coal has advanced, making it urgent to be more careful in the use of it. Steel companies have found that it pays better to sell the coal than to burn so much of it themselves. Then, again, the supply of natural gas in some communities has become limited or has given out entirely—another reason for saving fuel.

In later years competition has become keener. Large plants have been built, the older concerns have had to conserve their resources in order to meet this competition. Engineers have been employed to look after the saving of fuel—competent trained engineers with efficient instruments and departments set up to watch out for the power economy, steam, air, gas and water. Their business is to make efficiency tests on the machinery, measuring power used by different mills and departments, check up the fuel consumption of the boiler houses and be ready at any time to recommend the removal of a machine as soon as it becomes a paying proposition to replace it with a machine of greater efficiency. ### A Huge Water System.

New York City adds another big city's population to itself every year. In this way an Albany Engineer, or a New Haven one, is annexed every twelve months; in two years a Jersey City is gained and in five a Boston, a Cleveland, or a Baltimore. In order to supply for an adequate supply of water for the growth of the city, approximately 125,000 a year a plan was approved to obtain from the foothills of the Catskill mountains 500,000,000 gallons daily. The comprehensive plan included the development of the watersheds of the Esopus, Rondout, Schoharie and Catskill creeks, but at the present time only the Esopus watershed is being developed with its available 250,000,000 gallons of water daily.

Starting at the 130,000,000 gallon Ashokan reservoir, holding enough water to cover Manhattan to a depth of twenty-eight feet and covering an area equal to all of Manhattan below 116 street, an aqueduct 127 miles long is being constructed which will pass under deep valleys, the Hudson, Bronx and East Rivers and the Narrows to Staten Island, supplying New York's boroughs, known as the Bronx, Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond. Near Valhalla, N. Y., thirty miles from the city, the aqueduct is interrupted by the Kensico reservoir, which acts as an emergency storage reservoir to prevent interruption of supply during the unfavorable periods necessary for the operation between Ashokan and Kensico reservoirs. This reservoir will have the largest dam in the world, containing over 1,000,000 yards of masonry, and will store 40,000,000 gallons of water, which is sufficient to supply New York for seventy-five days or cover Manhattan Island to a depth of nine feet. Its shore line is 30.2 miles long. The total estimated cost of building the 500,000,000 gallon aqueduct was $176,857,000.

Repairing Leaks in Range Boilers.

After replacing two hot water boilers on the plumber's advice, because the leaks could not be repaired, we decided to find some means of stopping a pinhole leak in the third boiler, writes a correspondent to the Popular Mechanics. We made a successful repair by driving a taper punch into the hole just far enough to admit the point end of a one-eighth inch pipe tap. After tapping the hole a one-eighth inch plug was turned in tightly after thoroughly covering the threads with white lead.

Safety Tips on Chair Rockers.

Some rocking chairs are so constructed that when the person occupying it gives a hard tilt backward the chair tips over or dangerously near it. A rubber tipped screw turned into the under side of each rocker near the rear end will prevent the chair from tipping too far back.

MAYBE you're one of the reformed grinders is self and know how they meet and talk about the chew that satisfies. When you're non-member puddling a big wad of cheek don't you feel like stopping and giving him the facts about the Tobacco Chew?

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—sweetened just enough—cuts out so much grinding and spitting.

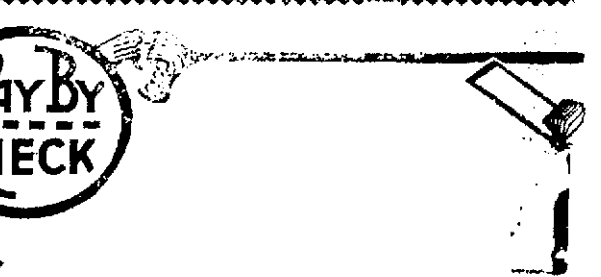

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR W-B CHEWING TOBACCO. IT'S REAL TOBACCO CHEW—CUT. Take less than one-quarter the old will be more satisfying than a mouthful of tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find how much less you have to chew and how much less it costs. That's why it's The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need the excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too. One small chew takes the place of chews of the old kind.

(Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.) WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY, 50 Union Square, New York

BURROUGHS

Prevent Costly Errors Save Valuable Time

This model has a total capacity of six columns—one cent less than $10,000

Have a look at it on your counter

Next time the Burroughs man is near let him show you this machine. There are many other things it will do for you—too many things to crowd into one advertisement. Drop a post card to the nearest Burroughs office. There are 170 of them. Your telephone book or your banker will tell you the nearest, or just address Burroughs, Detroit, Michigan.

You Both Know that the Amount is Right

No more little ten cent undercharges to drain away your hard earned profits.

No overcharges with the constant danger of dissatisfied customers.

Wouldn't you like to know—not guess?

You protect your cash after you get it—why not be sure you get it?

Burroughs accuracy stops unnoticed, steady leaks in retail store profits. Only two ten-cent errors a day in adding cash sales deprive you of $1.20 a week—$62.40 a year. Add the value of the time lost adding figures, down and up again to make sure—your new Burroughs has paid for itself.

But it saves in many other ways too.

How about errors in your charge accounts?

They are just as common there—and even more serious. They cost you money and often cause suspicion in your customers' minds. The housewife doesn't like to add up all those sales slips at the end of the month—neither do you. But the Burroughs does it in a jiffy—and protects you both.

Retailers invested $72,000 in this machine the first three days

Every day since the new Burroughs was announced retailers everywhere have been buying it.

There is just one reason. The Burroughs solves the big problem of profit protection that has worried thousands of progressive retailers for years.

CRISIS IS PASSED

VON BERNSTORFF VISIT TO LANSING TENDS TO RELIEVE TENSION OF LAST FEW DAYS.

BERLIN TO KEEP ITS PLEDGE

Ambassador Declares He Is Confident That There Will Be No Break Between Nations—Secretary Wants Disavowal From Kaiser.

Washington, Sept. 15.—With an earnest desire manifested by Germany to adjust the submarine question in a manner satisfactory to the United States, it looks as though the crisis in the relations of the two countries has passed.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, returned formally to Secretary Lansing at a state department conference on Monday that his government intended to carry out in good faith the assurances given by the security of life on belligerent ships.

He claimed that the note, with reference to the Arabic, declared under the principle underlying these assurances.

The ambassador made it clear to the secretary of state that there was no purpose on the part of his government to evade the spirit of the assurance.

He asserted that the instructions to submarine officers were specific in requiring them not to attack without warning. Of course if a vessel sought to escape or resisted a different situation would be created.

Mr. Lansing insisted that the burden of proof that a ship was attempting to escape or resist must rest upon the submarine commander.

Count von Bernstorff argued that the room for doubt would be restricted if the British government could be induced to cancel the orders given to commanders of merchant ships.

BERLIN DISAVOWS ACT

GERMAN FOREIGN OFFICE IN NOTE SAYS SUBMARINE DIDN'T TORPEDO HESPERIAN.

VESS. WAS SUNK BY MINE

Government in Note to Gerard Declares That No "Cautious" "Diver" Could Have Been in Vicinity of Spot Where Steamer Went Down.

Berlin, Sept. 15.—The German declaration that passenger ships will not be torpedoed without warning unless they try to escape, when summoned to stop, or offer resistance, holds good, the foreign office announced on Tuesday, thus confirming the statement recently made by Ambassador Bernstorff in the United States. The announcement continues:

"As to the Arabic case, there seems to be merely a difference of opinion about facts, which does not affect the above-mentioned principle."

The German government, in a note to Ambassador Gerard, made a qualified disclaimer of responsibility for the sinking of the steamship Hesperian.

On the face of the evidence thus far at hand, the government is satisfied that the Hesperian was not sunk by a German submarine.

The communication is a preliminary note, which may be supplemented when all the facts are known.

In connection with the Hesperian case, the German government states that, on the basis of the information thus far obtained, the theory that the Hesperian was sunk by a German submarine apparently has been abandoned.

It is said that official records show that no submarine was in the vicinity of the Hesperian at the time she was blown up.

Further, the point is made that the violence of the explosion and the place in which the steamship was struck, as set forth in the accounts of the disaster, indicate that it was due to a mine.

WILL MEET CARRANZA AGENTS

Pan-American Diplomats to Discuss International Affairs With First Chief's Men.

Washington, Sept. 15.—The administration has decided to discuss the international affairs of Mexico with Carranza's representatives, as suggested in his reply to the peace party proposals. Upon the outcome of that conference will depend whether Carranza and his government should be recognized as the government of Mexico.

Mr. Lansing further advised the German ambassador that arbitration of the question of the value of the American lives lost by the action of German submarines was repugnant to this government.

The ambassador is confident that an adjustment of the differences that exist will be reached.

For as long as concerned, he said, "there never will be a break between the two countries. I always have been optimistic. Diplomacy has so many resources that I have never seen reason to be pessimistic."

The auxiliary items in the normal school and university budgets were allowed by the board.

POSTOFFICE SAFE

BLOWERS BUSY

CRACKSMEN SECURE LOOT FROM SLADES CORNERS AND MUNSTER.

Robbers Leave No Clue

Secure Cash and Stamps to the Value of $500 at Slades Corners—Use Automobile in Making Their Escape.

Kenosha.—Postoffice robbers are busy on the outskirts of Kenosha county. The sheriff is searching for men who blew the safe in the office at Slades Corners and cracked the safe drawer in the smaller office at New Munster.

At Slades Corners the cracksmen secured cash and stamps to the value of $500.

The men made their way into the Slades Corners postoffice through a rear window. They went to a neighboring store and took scores of dollars of flour and piled them against the safe door in which holes had been bored for the dynamite. Not a person in the village heard the explosion. The cracksmen got a little over $275 in cash and the remainder was in postage stamps and special delivery stamps.

Tracks in the dirt roads near the office indicated that the men had driven to the office in an automobile and these tracks showed that they had gone toward Burlington.

At New Munster they entered the office through a rear window and secured $5 in money by jimmying the cash drawer. There is no clue to the robbers.

Assessment Is Approved

Officials Were Given Opportunity to Correct Errors Made in 1914.

Madison.—The tax commission approved the 1915 assessment of the city of Green Bay, which amounts to $25,650,000. "The interesting point about this action is that it indicates the policy of the tax commission in the assessment of 1915," said Commissioner Adams. "When the city of Green Bay was assessed at $17,600,000 in 1914, the commission was asked to make a reassessment. Our books show that this figure should be $25,000,000 or more. Instead of ordering a reassessment, however, we held the case open to give the officials a chance to correct the assessment of the next year. This has been done and the original complaint can now be dismissed. This new assessment may result in a lower tax rate for Green Bay this year."

CRISIS IS PASSED BERLIN DISAVOWS ACT

VON BERNSTORFF VISIT TO LAN-

SION OF LAST FEW DAYS.

BERLIN TO KEEP ITS PLEDGE

Ambassador Declares He Is Confident That There Will Be No Break Between Nations—Secretary Wants Disavowal From Kaiser.

Washington, Sept. 15.—With an earnest desire manifested by Germany to adjust the submarine question in a manner satisfactory to the United States, it looks as though the crisis in the relations of the two countries has passed.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, reiterated formally to Secretary Lansing at a state department conference on Monday that his government intended to carry out its good faith the assurances given for the security of life on belligerent waters.

He claimed that the note, with reference to the Arabic, declared anew the principle underlying these assurances.

The ambassador made it clear to the secretary of state that there was no purpose on the part of his government to evade the spirit of the assurances.

He asserted that the instructions to submarine officers were specific in requiring them not to attack without warning. Of course if a vessel painted to escape or resisted a different situation would be created.

Mr. Lansing insisted that the burden of proof that a ship was attempting to escape or resist must rest upon the submarine commander.

Count von Bernstorff argued that the room for doubt would be restricted
if the British government could be induced to cancel the orders given to commanders of merchant ships to run a submarine when they were encountered. The German ambassador insisted that the German submarine
officers will observe there will be no
if any cause for complaint on this part of the United States.

He urged Mr. Lansing to accept arbitration in case of the Arabic, pointing out that there was a sharp divergence of views relative to the way
in which that steamer was destroyed.

Secretary Lansing indicated that this government was convinced of the correctness of the evidence in its possession and he believed Germany should disavow the act of the submarine commander.

Mr. Lansing further advised the German ambassador that arbitration of the question of the value of the American lives lost by the action of German submarines was repugnant to this government.

The ambassador is confident that an adjustment of the differences that exist will be reached.

"So far as I am concerned," he said, "there never will be a break between the two countries. I always have been optimistic. Diplomacy has so many resources that I have never seen reason to be pessimistic."

THREE U. S. TROOPERS SHOT

Mexicans Attack Small American Force But Flee After Short Fight.

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 15.—The United States army in the lower Rio Grande valley on Monday night went on a very near approach to war time military footing.

The cause was a carefully prepared attack upon an army camp near the Rio Grande by Mexicans, the first deliberate blow at the American army home since the bandit raids begun and which cost the life of one American soldier. Two others were wounded.

The fight, beginning at dawn, was one of the most desperate of American soldiers in border records. Ten soldiers started in the fight. Seven were left in action at the end and one of them was killed.

Two Mexicans were seen to pitch forward on their faces during the fight, but their comrades removed all the Mexicans wounded.

The ten Americans who participated in the fight were all members of Troop
A, Twelfth Cavalry. Private Anthony
C. Smith, Detroit, Mich., was killed.
Trumpeter Harold B. Wagoner, Washington, N. Y., was shot through the abdomen and may die. Sergeant Walsh was shot in the side.

The camp where the fight occurred was in a grove about a mile in a ranch.
The fight lasted 30 minutes, when the Mexicans fled.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 15.—John Lowenbruck, the American cattleman held wounded, missing. These figures are contained in an official statement. Of the total, 4,965 officers and 70,998 men were killed.

GERMAN FOREIGN OFFICE IN NOTE SAYS SUBMARINE DIDN'T TORPEDO HESPERIAN.

VESS. WAS SUNK BY MINE

Government in Note to Gerard Declares That No Teutonic "Diver"
Could Have Been in Vicinity of Spot
Where Steamer Went Down.

Berlin, Sept. 15.—The German declaration that passenger ships will not be torpedoed without warning unless they try to escape, when summoned to stop, or offer resistance, holds good,
the foreign office announced today,
thus confirming the statement Tuesday made by Ambassador Bernstorff in the United States. The announcement continues:

"As for the Arabic case, there seems to be merely a difference of opinion about facts, which does not affect the above-mentioned principle.
The German government, in a note to Ambassador Gerard, made a qualified disclaimer of responsibility for the sinking of the steamship Hesperian.
On the face of the evidence thus far at hand, the government is satisfied that the Hesperian was not sunk by a German submarine.

The communication is an preliminary note, which may be followed with the Hesperian incident as established definitely. The German government states that, on the basis of the information thus far obtained, the theory that the Hesperian was sunk by a German submarine is apparently not abandoned. The statement is that no official records show that no submarine should have been in the vicinity of the Hesperian at the time she was blown up. Furthermore, the point is made that the place of the explosion and the place in which the steamer was struck, and the accounts of the disaster, indicate that it was due to a mine.

Count von Bernstorff argued that
the room for doubt would be restricted
if the British government could be induced to cancel the orders given to commanders of merchant ships to run a submarine when they were encountered. The German ambassador
insisted that the German submarine
officers will observe there will be no
if any cause for complaint on this part of the United States.

He urged Mr. Lansing to accept arbitration in case of the Arabic, pointing out that there was a sharp di-
vergence of views relative to the way
in which that steamer was destroyed.

Secretary Lansing indicated that this government was convinced of the correctness of the evidence in its possession and he believed Germany
should disavow the act of the submarine commander.

Mr. Lansing further advised the German ambassador that arbitration of
the question of the value of the American lives lost by the action of German submarines was repugnant to this government.

The ambassador is confident that an adjustment of the differences that exist will be reached.

"So far as I am concerned," he
tween the two countries. I always have been optimistic. Diplomacy has
so many resources that I have never seen reason to be pessimistic."

international affairs of Mexico with conference will depend whether Carranza and his government shall be recognized as the best way of bringing an end to the troubles of the Mexican republic and restoring peace and order.

Secretary Lansing said on Tuesday that the Pan-American conference will meet in New York Saturday.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Instructions issued months ago urging American citizens in Mexico to leave the country have been renewed to Americans ports that the order had reference to this government's future course toward Mexico.

STATE EDUCATION BOARD ORGANIZED

APPROVES PLANS FOR $100,000
DORMITORY AT STEVENS POINT NORMAL SCHOOL.

APPROVE THREE CONTRACTS

Francis S. Lamb Elected Temporary Secretary of New Body at a Salary of $200
a Month.

Madison.—Approval of the plans for the $100,000 dormitory at the Stevens Point Normal school was perhaps the most important action taken by the state board of education at its organization meeting here.

Francis S. Lamb, an accountant of the normal school regents, was elected temporary secretary with a salary of $200 a month.

The salary items in the normal school and university budgets were allowed by the board.

The budgets as a whole, however, were not approved, and will probably be acted on at a later meeting. In the meantime, John S. Donald, secretary of state, and C. P. Cary, state superintendent of public instruction, will act as a committee to allow the money necessary for current expenses.

Three contracts for work at the Eau Claire Normal school were approved by the board and the governor. The plans for the physics building at the university were approved and the regents were authorized to let plans ready for the proposed rolls building.

The next meeting of the board will be held on call of the chairman.

POSTOFFICE SAFE BLOWERS BUSY

CRACKSMEN SECURE LOOT FROM SLADES CORNERS AND

ROBBERS LEAVE NO CLUE

Secure Cash and Stamps to the Value of $500 at Slades Corners—Use Automobile in Making Their Escape.

Kenosha.—Postoffice robbers are busy on the outskirts of Kenosha county. The sheriff is searching for men who blew the safe in the office at Slades Corners and cracked the safe drawer in the smaller office at New Munster.

At Slades Corners the cracksmen secured cash and stamps to the value of $500.

The men made their way into the Slades Corners postoffice through a back door. They went to a neighboring store and took scores of sacks of flour and piled them against the safe door in which holes had been bored for the dynamite. Not a person in the village heard the explosion. The cracksmen got a little over $275 in cash and the remainder in postage stamps and special delivery stamps.

From the dirt roads near the office indicated that the men had driven to the office in an automobile and these tracks showed that they had gone toward Burlington.

At New Munster they entered the office through a rear window and secured $5 in money by jimmying the cash drawer. There is no clue to the robbers.

Kenosha.—The state board of health has adopted additional rules pertaining to prevention and control of con-of law. It is declared unlawful for any person to be a guardian or person having custody of any child suffering from chickenpox, measles or whooping cough to permit such child to leave the premises, or to permit children other than main upon the premises while placarded.

WHO PAYS? TOIL and TYRANNY

TWELFTH STORY PROLOGUE.

With wildly shrieking horn disturbing the very stillness of the distant hills, and with pale and terror-stricken chauffeur bending over the wheel, the limousine of David Powers, millionaire lumber king, tore through the granite gateway of his beautiful residence and dashed madly along the shrub-bordered driveway toward the main porch.

Perry Travis, his legal adviser, was with him, and as the machine came to a sudden stop before them, his grinding wheels sending up a shower of fine stones and gravel, Powers was seen to pause and turn an instant toward the younger man as if for support.

He had heard the piercing, clanking notes of the horn before the machine was in sight. He knew the temper of his men. He realized that his affairs were approaching a crisis. And he was afraid—afraid with the pitiful fear which comes over strong men when they realize that the conflicting danger is of their own creation.

With trembling limbs the chauffeur climbed from his seat and averted his fear-distorted eyes, as with unsteady hand he pointed to the broken window pane in the door of the handsome machine. The small round hole, with its pattern of radiating cracks, like a shattered and shattered mirror, told its story. Nothing but a bullet could have made a break like that.

Mastering his own emotion with supreme effort, Powers stepped toward the machine, and with firm hand—for his was a will of iron—he opened the door. From out of the luxurious interior he lifted the foot body of his beautiful daughter and pressed her to his breast—a bosom that was racked and torn with partly stifled sobs.

Gently—gently as when she had been an infant some twenty years ago—he carried her into the house and tenderly—oh, so tenderly—he placed her on a divan.

David Powers sank on one knee before the girl, and then slowly his body seemed to shatter and melt, much like a half-melted lump of metal, as with a complete surrender to grief he threw himself prone upon the floor and uttered the single word:

"Dead."

Travis stood silently beside the stricken father, unable to think or move. The young woman who lay there a victim to the wickedness of the tyrant of her father's workmen, had been his fiancée, and his sorrow was but little less than that of the agonized parent.

David Powers was known as the man who never smiled during business hours. He was known as the man whose employees all feared him. He was known, too, as one of the most successful lumbermen in the business on the Pacific coast, and all who knew him envied him. Stern, domineering, and with a genius for organization, he could get more work out of less men for smaller wages than any man in the state of California.

That is, more than any man except that is, more than any man who had a driver or men, the man who could extract one more ounce of labor for one fifth less of wages was Jake Snyder, the chief foreman, pugnacious, hard as nails, bluff-hearted and entirely without sentiment.

Jake made an ideal driver for so exacting a boss as Powers. Watch him now on this morning several weeks before the shooting of Laura Powers. Watch him as he talks among the men there on the dock and on the boat. Note the feverish anxiety with which the men bend to their tasks when he glowers in their direction.

Powers had just driven up to his office in his high-powered six and had sent to Jake.

The millionaire was looking over the market column of the morning paper when his foreman entered and he never lifted his eyes from the absorbing sheet until the field commander had drawn his chair up close to his employer's desk.

There was no word of greeting between the men.

Pointing a pudgy finger first at the newspaper and then at the nose of his foreman, the millionaire spoke tersely and harshly:

"Lumber's high in the East, Jake. Drive your men up the limit and get that shipment sent while prices hold."

There was a grim cruelty in Jake's eyes and just a tinge of a smile on his firm, thin lips as he answered: "They're pretty near the limit now, but I guess we can speed 'em up a bit."

Once driven out of a shop by an incensed German grocer whom I had asked to settle an account of long standing, for the days passed, the daily grind absorbed my energies, and when I was not collecting or tediously going over the stock in the dim recesses of the store, I was running errands in the wholesale district, treading the burning track of the pavement, dodging heavy trucks and drays and passing clerks who flew about with memorandum pads in their hands, or awaiting the pleasure of trouble that carried the trolley high into the air over the lumber yard, and on toward the city.

It was a time for quick action, and Hurd was equal to the emergency. With a new strength born of his momentary respite, Karl gathered himself together for a spring, and he hurried himself forward, from the swiftly moving trolley and landed on top of a towering lumber pile. As he lay winded and panting on top of the rude skyscraper, he saw Jake carried swiftly past him on the dashing trolley, shaking his fist at his escaped quarry in impatient rage.

Slowly, his fingers gripping desperately at the projecting boards, he rose unsteadily and his head swimming, Hurd climbed down the side of the lumber pile that had been his temporary haven. It seemed ages before he reached the ground.

And then he came face to face with Snyder.

Like wild beasts the men glared at each other.

Slowly, cautiously they approached. Snyder's attitude was eager, expectant, Hurd's was desperate. Snyder swung his rude weapon easily, holding it ready. Hurd's fists were doubled. The two men closed.

Snyder, his intended blow blocked for the moment, found himself borne backward by the force rush of the other. He struggled with a determination worthy of a better cause. And his superior strength soon told.

Straining and panting he slowly forced Hurd to release his grip, and, showing his opponent from him, he suddenly, with the swiftness of a man trained to such work, raised his club and came crashing down upon the head of the underdog and poorly nourished stevedore.

Hurd dropped like a stone. He was done.

"Wait until my birthday, Perry—it's only four months—and then perhaps—"

Laura Powers had gently withdrawn her white hand from the more masculine ones of Perry Travis and had gazed dreamily out across the well-trimmed lawns and beautiful gardens.

She was happy and pampered and indulged. She had revealed in almost a love—a love that amounted to worship. Another man's love—the love of a man who was worthy and had her father's approval.

Small wonder that the days had flown swiftly. Small wonder that time had taken unto itself wings. And now her birthday was here. Already the guests were assembling. Already the music was playing. Already the champagne was being opened. And even yet Laura sometimes wondered just what that answer would be.

And Laura, while entering into the gaiety about her, yet found her mind frequently wandering away from her surroundings; found herself constantly trying to recall the answer she had given to her father's question.

And then he came to greet her. Long and fondly he gazed into her eyes and unconsciously of her surroundings she let him hold her hand longer than was strictly necessary.

Quietly her father stepped up to where they stood.

"Friends," he said, "I wish to announce the engagement of my daughter Laura to Perry Travis."

The confused laugh and the pretty blushes that mantled her cheek, chasing themselves in telltale profusion up to the very roots of her wavy hair, were enough to tell those present that her father's words had not displeased her. Perry had his answer.

Just then, as if the fate were loth to let happiness be so long untroubled, there came an interruption. While the guests were crowding up and about Laura, the women kissing her and the men showering congratulations upon her, the servants were trying to keep a committee of workmen from entering at the gate.

Tim Shand was at their head—Tim the foreman, the man who had been on strike for weeks there had been turmoil and strife. For weeks there had been starvation in the homes of the strikers and destitution among the children of the workmen. Ever since the trouble between Snyder and Hurd the discontent of the men had grown. And then had come the last straw—the order given by Powers and enforced by Snyder—an order, working the men an hour longer each day and all day Sunday without extra pay.

Even Snyder, tyrannical as he was known to be, had protested slightly at the latest outrage.

"The men'll never stand it," he had said.

"Times are hard and it must be done," Powers had answered.

"The men will strike," Snyder had ventured.

"Then we will get others," the millionaire had answered.

And so, going from group to group, Snyder had driven them harder, had shouted the new orders at the strikers, had sought to coerce them into submission by a volley of filthy oaths.

But the word will turn, they say, and hungry, worn-out stevedores are less patient than the earth-grubbing insect. There were murmurs at Snyder's orders and open rebellion at his language. Just how it started nobody seemed to know; just who began it, nobody knew. Since the men were, impelled by a common instinct, they had suddenly rushed the rough-tongued foreman and had thrown him off the dock into the water. Then had come the march to the office, the demand for better pay, the clanging of the gates, bank tellers. Save Harvey, the venerable porter, I was the last to leave the store in the evening, and I always came away with the taste of Breck & Co.'s mail or my palate, it being my final duty to "lick" the whole of it and deposit it in the box at the corner. Brave French Child.

The remarkable adventures of a twelve-year-old boy, Andre Guede by name, on the battlefield beyond the Marne, were told in a letter that Alex. and Andre Millerand, the French minister of war, has made public.

When the troops were passing through the village of Neuilly-en-Montagne, Andre said to his mother, "I'm going to follow the soldiers!" Off he went, and the regiment he followed was soon in the thick of the fight. Sub-Lieutenant Grievet took the boy under his protection.

During the three days of the battle of Boullancy the youngster remained by the side of the Lieutenant on the firing line and would not leave him, even though the German artillery and machine guns swept the ravine. Lieutenant Grievet was wounded, and still under fire, Andre carried the officer's sword, revolver, maps and equipment while they looked for an ambulance.

The Lieutenant was picked up by the Red Cross wagon and driven to the railway station and the hospital train. Andre ran for miles after the vehicle and succeeded in hiding himself in the train. So he accompanied Grievet to Riva Bella, where he is now staying, happy in the companionship of his wounded friend—YOUTH'S Companion.

PRETTY CORSET COVER

LATEST MODEL IS NOT AT ALL HARD TO MAKE.

Flesh-Colored Crepe de Chine Recommended for the Garment Illustrated, Which is One of the Best That Has Been Devised.

A girl cannot have too many dainty corset covers in the summer time, when the waists are so thin as to be almost transparent. The latest model is one requiring so little time or skill in making that the girl who knows how to sew will not hesitate to make at least half a dozen.

The ensemble illustrated is a flesh-colored crepe de chine, embroidered in self color and trimmed with narrow chun lace, but any thin material in a delicate shade may be used, as mull, chiffon cloth, nainsook, all-over shadow lace, net in white or flesh color, China and India silks.

A strip of material 36 inches long and 15 to 20 inches wide will make one cover. The latter width is for a stout figure. A very tall person might use a yard and an eighth for the length, but one yard will be enough for the average woman. The material is doubled, laid flat, and a cross-stitch taken out of the fold, creating an oval opening for the head to pass through. A second cross-stitch is taken out at the right edge, and the ends turned up to form a hem. The long ends are finished with a narrow hem and trimmed to suit the sewer's fancy; also the neck.
